“THE JEWEL IN THE CROWN” ON THE SOUTH DEVON COAST

Nestled on the stunning South Devon coast, Salcombe is a picturesque seaside town renowned for its golden beaches, scenic estuary and rich maritime heritage. A popular destination for sailing, coastal exploration and relaxation, Salcombe has a unique charm that keeps visitors returning year after year. Many families have been coming to Salcombe for generations, forming a loyal community of “regulars” who are not only welcomed by locals but are also vital to the town’s economy and businesses.

Historically, Salcombe has been deeply connected to the sea. During the 19th century, it thrived as a hub for shipbuilding and trade, with its sheltered waters providing ideal conditions for maritime industries. Fishing, particularly for shellfish, played a crucial role in the local economy and echoes of this seafaring past are still visible today. During World War II, Salcombe served as a key embarkation point for troops heading to the D-Day landings, further cementing its place in British history.

Today, the town’s economy is heavily supported by tourism, with regular visitors forming the backbone of local businesses. From boutique shops and galleries to seafood restaurants and waterfront pubs, these establishments rely on the loyalty of returning families who choose Salcombe as their holiday destination year after year. This generational tradition has created a strong sense of community, with many visitors becoming well-known faces among locals. Their continued support ensures that Salcombe’s businesses thrive, allowing the town to maintain its charm and unique character.

Beyond its bustling town centre, Salcombe offers breathtaking natural beauty. The Salcombe Estuary, designated an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, is home to diverse wildlife, while the South West Coast Path provides scenic walking routes with panoramic views. Nearby beaches such as North Sands and South Sands are perfect for a day by the sea and playing in the sands.

Whether visiting for the first time or continuing a cherished family tradition, each visitor plays a crucial role in sustaining Salcombe's economy and vibrant atmosphere.

The town extends a warm welcome to all, ensuring that its unique blend of natural beauty, maritime history and strong community spirit continues to make it one of Devon's most treasured coastal destinations.

 A Piece Of Salcombe Heaven

‘BRAND’ NEW

Salcombe has long been known as a thriving hub for renowned brands, with many successful national companies having their roots in the town. We are excited and proud to introduce three exciting new startups, each founded by talented, ambitious young local women who are bringing fresh ideas, creativity, and innovation to our growing business community.

POSH Hamper Co Salcombe

ISLAND STREET

Miriam Peppiatt ~ big surprises come in small packages!

Our family has deep roots here—my husband’s grandfather once owned a shop in town. So, when the chance came to open our own store, it felt like the perfect fit.

Hampers have always been my go-to gift, and at Christmas 2022, we began sourcing local products to create thoughtfully curated hampers for friends and family. Wanting to share these treasures more widely, we reached out to local holiday companies—and the response was incredible! Encouraged by the support, we launched our online store in 2023, expanding our offerings to include hampers and unique local gifts.

A year later, we found our perfect shop on Island Street—a small space just right. Now, it’s a charming destination filled with gifts, food, and drinks, offering a true Piece Of Salcombe Heaven.

KITTY WARD

ISLAND STREET

Kitty ~ moulding the future
one pot at a time

I never planned to be a potter growing up in Salcombe. When I finally realised it's what I wanted, I thought, "There's no way I can do that here!" Space is expensive, seasons are unpredictable, and all those small business doubts crept in.

But at the end of 2023, I found a run-down old shed on Island

Street. With a lot of help from my family, we turned it into a proper pottery studio. Now, I'm working as a potter in my hometown, and visitors can step inside, watch me throw, glaze, and fire each piece—and even take home a little part of Salcombe.

Looking ahead, I'm excited to welcome you into the studio to try your hand at throwing a pot or two yourself!

RUSSELL COURT

Bonnie Kouki (pronounced Cookie ~ obviously) from home kitchen to Salcombe sweet spot.

Salcombe has always been home. I went to Salcombe Primary and Kingsbridge College, and after a few years away, we returned in 2023, bringing our dreams with us.

Baking in my kitchen soon turned into something bigger—brownies at markets, supplying local restaurants, and even launching an online store. Salcombe's sweet tooth took me by surprise! With demand growing, I took the leap and left my job to focus fully on Mrs Cookies.

Then, in October 2024, we opened our very own shop in the heart of town—and what a journey it's been. Salcombe has welcomed us with open arms, and we're excited to keep baking, supporting local events, and sharing treats with our amazing community.

SAIL, PLAY & EXPLORE

Unforgettable adventures await you in Salcombe! Set sail, paddleboard, kayak, swim, or fish in clear waters. Wander scenic trails, explore charming villages, or take on a new challenge—try pottery, chocolate-making, or even crafting your own gin. Whether you seek thrills or tranquility, every moment here is a reason to return.

"The garden's greenery glows under grey skies, revealing new depths of color and texture," says Head Gardener Chris Groves.

The Tree

circa 1800 - 2024

By 1896, the Californian Monterey Pine at Woodcot was already a mature tree which dominated the extensive gardens. Aaron Murch, the gardener, loved the tree so much that he grew many saplings from it which were planted around South Sands and East Portlemouth, which can be spotted to this day.

For generations of visitors the sight of the majestic Woodcot pine tree has signalled that the holiday has begun.

In one direction, the lure of the town with its sweets in pink striped bags, ice creams, and welcoming pubs and restaurants. In the other, the enchantment of the high walls with the stone bridge spanning the road. Beyond it, the view of the estuary and sea opens, promising freedom, fresh air, barbecues and picnics, as well as magical walks through hidden valleys and blustery cliff tops.

All lovers of Salcombe were saddened by the necessary felling of the tree in the autumn of 2024. The rotten trunk and diseased roots finally condemned it, as it had become a danger to life and property. However, the memories of happy times in Salcombe, inspired by the sight of that majestic pine, have endured for over one hundred years.

Keep watching the Woodcot garden though, as soon a new tree will spring up to continue the iconic symbol of family holidays.

Please see the Experience Salcombe Calendar for Woodcot and all Salcombe events and updates.

NO JOB TOO SMALL SALCOMBE'S INCREDIBLE CRAFTSMAN IN HIS HIDDEN WORKSHOP

Malcolm Darch, a master shipwright and maritime historian, has spent 50 years crafting exquisite model ships from his workshop overlooking Salcombe Harbour. His scale reproductions, renowned for their precision and artistry, are prized by collectors, museums, and businesses worldwide, fetching thousands of pounds.

Beyond model-making, Malcolm is a respected historian with significant publications to his name. His workshop doubles as a treasure trove of maritime artifacts, reflecting his deep passion for naval heritage. Honoured as a Fellow of the Society for Nautical Research, he is a leading figure in preserving Britain's seafaring legacy.

Malcolm's latest masterpiece, a model of the ill-fated Herzogin Cecilie, wrecked near Salcombe in 1936, will be finished in April. His latest book is currently in production and will be available in 2026.

Join Us in Commemorating 80 Years of VE Day at Cliff House Lower Gardens on May 5th.

This year marks the 80th anniversary of Victory in Europe (VE) Day, when the allies celebrated the end of World War II in Europe on 8th May 1945. To honour this historic occasion, the Salcombe community invites you to a special Community Garden Party. Bring your own picnic, chair and blanket for an afternoon of remembrance, live music, a best-dressed competition and a spectacular flotilla finale. All welcome!

VE Day 8th May

2:30 pm – Civic Church Service at Holy Trinity Church

4:00 pm – Wreath-laying ceremony at the Salcombe War Memorial

6:30 pm – Holy Trinity Church Bells "Ring Out in Celebration"

Join us as we honour the past, celebrate peace and remember those who served.

WHAT'S ON & WHERE IT'S AT

FOUR FAVOURITE WALKS

EAST SOAR RANGER RUN

This circular trail run dips and climbs along rugged cliffs where 'Dartmoor meets the sea'. A wild, partially tamed landscape with views of the Atlantic ocean, sandy beaches and farm land. Overhead raptors fly, and long-horned Highland cattle peacefully munch on the rich grassland.

WALK TO SNAPES POINT

Enjoy a short walk through the South Hams countryside, between fields teeming with wildlife, until you arrive at Snapes Point, which offers panoramic views of Salcombe and the Kingsbridge Estuary.

EAST SOAR TO BOLT HEAD

From shipwrecks to wildlife-spotting, discover the dramatic coast around Salcombe on this circular walk via the South West Coast Path. After the jagged rocks at Bolt Head, wander down to the impossibly blue waters of Starehole Bay, then return past Overbeck's, with views of the Salcombe Estuary.

PRAWLE POINT WALK

This walk is full of drama: heart thumping clifftop climbs, with rocky raised beaches below. Look out for the sunken Demetrios below Signalhouse Point and don't miss the ancient boundary stones that dot the landscape.
